(7)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (8), the State Tax Commission shall assess a charge imposed under this section within three years after the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services files a return.

(b) If the commission does not assess a charge under this chapter within the three-year period provided in Subsection (7)(a), the commission may not file an action to collect the charge.

(8) The State Tax Commission may assess a charge at any time if the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services:

(a) files a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade; or

(b) does not file a return.

(9) The State Tax Commission may not make a credit or refund unless the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services files a claim with the commission within three years of the date of overpayment.

Section 3. Effective date.

Section 4. Coordination clause.

If this bill and House Bill 395, Tax Assessments, Proceedings, and Credit or Refund Claims, both pass in the 1998 General Session of the Legislature, it is the intent of the Legislature that this bill be amended by deleting the language in Subsections 69-2-5.5(7) through (9) and inserting the following:

(7)(a) Except as provided in Subsections (8) through (11), the State Tax Commission shall assess a charge imposed under this section within three years after a provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services files a return.

(b) Except as provided in Subsections (8) through (11), if the commission does not assess a charge imposed under this section within the three-year period provided in Subsection (7)(a), the commission may not commence a proceeding to collect the charge.

(8) Notwithstanding Subsection (7), the State Tax Commission may assess a charge at any time if a provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services:

(a) files a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade; or

(b) does not file a return.

(9) Notwithstanding Subsection (7), beginning on July 1, 1998, the State Tax Commission may extend the period to make an assessment or commence a proceeding to collect the charge imposed under this section if:

(a) the three-year period under Subsection (7) has not expired; and

(b) the commission and the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services sign a written agreement:

(i) authorizing the extension; and

(ii) providing for the length of the extension.

(10) If the State Tax Commission delays an audit at the request of a provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services, the commission may make an assessment as provided in Subsection (11) if:

(a) the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services subsequently refuses to agree to an extension request by the commission; and

(b) the three-year period under Subsection (7) expires before the commission completes the audit.

(11) An assessment under Subsection (10) shall be:

(a) for the time period for which the State Tax Commission could not make an assessment because of the expiration of the three-year period; and

(b) in an amount equal to the difference between:

(i) the commission's estimate of the amount of the charge the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services would have been assessed for the time period described in Subsection (11)(a); and

(ii) the amount of the charge the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services actually paid for the time period described in Subsection (11)(a).

(12)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (12)(b), the State Tax Commission may not make a credit or refund unless the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services files a claim with the commission within three years of the date of overpayment.

(b) Notwithstanding Subsection (12)(a), beginning on July 1, 1998, the commission shall extend the period for a provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services to file a claim under Subsection (12)(a) if:

(i) the three-year period under Subsection (12)(a) has not expired; and

(ii) the commission and the provider of local exchange service switched access line services or radio communications access line services sign a written agreement:

(A) authorizing the extension; and

(B) providing for the length of the extension."
